Operational Security Services Team Lead

This is an exciting opportunity to join our vibrant, rapidly evolving business as Operational Security Services Team Lead, supporting our operating businesses by heading and delivering a proactive IT Operations security service that is appropriately managed, expertly maintained and readily available.

Redde Northgate was formed in early 2020 following a successful merger, bringing together a broad mix of market-leading operating companies to become the UK's foremost integrated mobility solutions provider. IT is at the heart of our business and we continuously review how we deliver our services, the innovation opportunity we provide and our overall approach to the demands of our growing, corporate business.

Joining our IT Operations and Service Delivery team in the early stages of our exciting journey, you have responsibility for the design, delivery and line-management of our in-house security services function. You hold a vital role in leadership team – ensuring that your team effectively provide day-to-day security support including data backups, server and device patching, antivirus deployment, monitoring & alerting, incident response, vulnerability management, change control, availability & performance management of the security management platforms are carried out within a controlled and compliant framework.

In short, it is a great time to work here and, as Operational Security Services Team, you and your team can have a significant impact on how we work, how the business develops and how successful we can be.

About you

- You can demonstrate previous success in a similar IT operational security services leadership role, preferably within a large and complex business group;
- You have are a IT security services expert with an extensive knowledge of relevant technologies and processes including Windows Server, MS Exchange, Virtualisation, SAN/NAS, Azure/M365, Veeam, SRM, Commvault and DR, failover and BCP amongst others;
- You operate effectively in a high-tempo and time critical IT operations and service delivery environment, managing both the workload of your team and your available resources to meet deadlines and expectations;
- You can demonstrate experience of providing leadership to highly expert technical teams, including recruitment, staff development and performance management;
- You hold knowledge of financial processes, including budget planning, expenditure forecasting and reporting;
- You work collaboratively with a wide range of IT and Change peers and can clearly communicate solutions to both technical and non-technical team members and stakeholders;

As Operational Security Services Team Lead, we offer you:

- A starting salary of up to £48k pa, negotiable to reflect your technical knowledge and depth of experience.
- Additional employee benefits (incl. employee assistance, life assurance, pension, retail discounts etc.)
- The business as usual flexibility to work from home and visit the office when required
- A supportive, like-minded peer group of senior stakeholders and IT specialists all aiming for the same goal.

Be part of our IT future

If you would love to join our team as Operational Security Services Team Lead, we encourage you to find out more.

Apply today!